WISCONSIN
INTERGENERATIONAL
ORCHESTRA

Good Afternoon and Welcome

Mission Statement

The Wisconsin Intergenerational Orchestra brings together musicians of all ages and skill levels in a challenging, non-competitive environment. Players benefit from interactions with each other while progressing toward a common goal of artistic excellence. WIO performances are designed to share the joy of music making with performers and audience members alike.

Greetings and welcome to the Wisconsin Intergenerational Orchestra Spring Concert. My name is Andy Laird. As WIO has moved into its fourth season, my new participation marks the realization of a personal intention concerning retirement activities, resume violin playing and join an orchestra. After a sixty year layoff from orchestra and violin playing I restarted playing last fall. My violin teacher recommended contacting Wisconsin Intergenerational Orchestra. As a new WIO iGen Symphony Orchestra member you can spot me in the second violin section. (I certainly reflect the upper end of “intergenerational”.) You will see and hear that our ensemble is the result of WIO’s mission statement actively pursued.

You too can get involved with this organization. Firstly, would you enjoy playing in an orchestra? There are two WIO skill level orchestras, Intermezzo and iGen Symphony. Secondly, volunteers are needed to help support “back stage” necessities. And thirdly, financial help is greatly appreciated (a 501(c)(3) organization). To learn more, please visit the WIO website wiorchestra.org. Subscribing to the mailing list will provide you with updates and news.

Our WIO Intermezzo Orchestra, directed by Benjamin Leon opens our concert. This ensemble is growing and, as you will see, is evolving in it’s diversity.

Our WIO iGen Symphony Orchestra follows, directed by Anne Marie Peterson. We are very pleased to welcome our Principal Trombonist, Kevin Loughney, as our guest conductor.

Then the Intermezzo and iGen Symphony orchestras combine and are joined by our special guests, the Pius XI High School Orchestra performing “Rites of Tamburo” for our finale.

We are excited to present results of the camaraderie and fun we have playing together with this concert. At the opening of each rehearsal, our conductor, Anne Marie Peterson asks us “What time is it”? And with gusto we reply “It’s time to play.”

“What time is it”? “It’s time to play”!

About this afternoon's guest conductor . . .

Kevin Loughney earned his BME at UW-Eau Claire in 1994 and his Masters Degree from VanderCook College in 2006. He has taught in the Unity School District in Balsam Lake, Marshfield Senior High, and the Elmbrook School District.

Mr. Loughney is currently in his 18th year as Director of Bands at Brookfield East High School where he directs three concert bands, two jazz ensembles, pit orchestra, marching band, and pep band. As a trombonist, Mr. Loughney has played professionally at Walt Disney World and Valleyfair Amusement Parks. He is a proud father of two boys, Collin (9) and Elliott (14), and enjoys musky fishing, extreme cake baking, and camping.

With thanks to the Pius XI High School Orchestra . . .

Ashley is an active soloist and orchestral musician based out of the greater Milwaukee and Chicago areas. She can be seen performing regularly with the symphonies of Fox Valley (Wisconsin) and Kenosha, Bel Canto Chorus & Orchestra, and the Wisconsin Philharmonic, where she also works behind the scenes as Personnel Manager and Music Librarian. A passionate opera musician, Ashley spends her summers in Miami as an opera orchestra fellow for the Miami Music Festival.

As a conductor, Ashley holds the position of Music Director of many ensembles, including: Greater Milwaukee El Sistema, Pius XI Catholic High School Orchestras, and the Milwaukee School of Engineering's String Orchestra.

Ashley earned her Bachelor of Music degree in Violin Performance Summa cum Laude from North Park University, and her Master of Music in Violin Performance from Roosevelt University's Chicago College of Performing Arts. She is also an active participant of the Starling-DeLay Violin Symposium on Violin Studies at the Juilliard School. You can learn more about Ashley at her website: www.ashleyrewolinski.com
